Important Notice

Please note all lots are sold subject to our conditions of business for buyers and Authenticity Guarantee, which are set forth in the centre of this catalogue.

Once again Summers Place have put together a wonderful assembly of items associated with natural history. In addition to some exceptional displays of taxidermy, there are some splendid and important fossils – including an amazing three-dimensional plesiosaur from the Oxford Clay of Northamptonshire. A selection of exquisite mineral specimens will also be offered.

Perhaps the most intriguing items are several pieces of Burmese amber with various kinds of creatures preserved within. It was, of course, Jurassic Park that brought insects in amber to popular attention, along with the fanciful possibility that the author, Michael Crichton, proposed. Most people will remember that his idea was based around the assumption that blood (and therefore DNA) from dinosaurs could be extracted from ancient mosquito-like insects preserved in amber. This blood could then be used to recreate living dinosaurs!

What is truly remarkable about the collection of amber at Summers Place is the fact that contained within one of the pieces is not just an insect but something far more extraordinary – the head of a small pterosaur, one of the famous flying reptiles that flew across Jurassic and Cretaceous skies. The importance and rarity of such a piece cannot be overstated.

When the subject of amber is raised, most people think of the amber that comes from the Baltic, and these deposits have been known for centuries. Even the Vikings exploited them, and in later times some spectacular artefacts have been constructed from the material, including the celebrated, but now lost, amber room that was once one of the great treasures of St. Petersburg. What is not widely known, however, is the fact that amber occurs in places other than the Baltic. And one of the most productive areas for the finding of amber is in Myanmar. Burmese amber, as it is generally known, has been brought to the western world since the 19th century, but due to the isolation of Myanmar in recent decades it has been largely overlooked. But since the comparatively recent opening up of the country, a new influx of Burmese amber has generated much interest and some of the inclusions contained within the material are proving to be really remarkable. The American Museum of Natural History in New York has built up a considerable collection and this is yielding much new information. Burmese Amber is older than the amber obtained in the Baltic and comes from the middle of the Cretaceous Period (around 100 million years ago). At this time flowering plants were beginning to diversify rapidly, and this had a huge impact on the insect fauna, something shown by the variety of insects preserved in the material. In addition to insects there are sometimes feathers, snails, scorpions and spiders. Even blood is sometimes found – and this blood has been found to contain malaria-like microbes. A whole variety of interesting creatures are displayed in the collection being offered.

But, of course, in terms of importance, a pterosaur head belongs in an entirely different category.

Rowland Ward (1848-1912) the most celebrated of all taxidermists, operated from premises in Piccadilly. Here, he catered to Dukes and Duchesses, the rich and famous, and sportsmen the world over. He was so successful, and his reputation so great, that following his own death in 1912, the company he founded stayed in business for another 60 years, despite the general decline in interest in taxidermy through the twentieth century. During this period, the firm employed hundreds of workers, and was always renowned for the high quality of the work produced and the top quality standards maintained by its employees. Ward himself made many innovations in terms of taxidermy, and always maintained that a good taxidermist was not simply a craftsman but an artist and that he or she should be regarded as nothing less.

A massive Gibeon meteorite piece

Namibia

in custom steel frame

46cm by 32cm by 22cm, 63kg

The Gibeon meteorite was a large nickel iron meteorite that fell over Namibia in prehistoric times. The indigenous Nama people used pieces that they found to make tools. The first European to come across pieces was a Captain Alexander in 1836 and he sent samples to London which were analysed by John Herschel who could confirm their extra-terrestrial origin. Pieces are found over a large area of some 275km by 100km and rightly their removal and export was banned. The largest pieces found, up to 500kg, have been incorporated into a fountain in the capital, Windhoek and are a designated National monument. They were found near the village of Gibeon leading to the naming of the meteorite after that place.

The nature of this meteorite is a fine octahedrite, mainly being iron and nickel but with significant amounts of phosphorous and cobalt. Its crystal structure gives rise to particularly clear Widmanstatten patterns making it one of the most desirable of meteorites.

A Mene Rhombea fossil fish plaque

Monte Bolca, Italy, Eocene period

45cm

Monte Bolca is possibly the oldest worked fossil site in the world. Crusaders considered the fossils remains of the Last Supper. Emperors, kings and nobility made collections of them. The site has been in the possession of the same family for 400 years.

The fossils are 49 million years old (Eocene period) from what was a tropical lagoon. They consist of a large variety of fish, as well as cephalopods, shells, insects and plants. The site is designated a Lagerstatte, referring to the unusually fine state of preservation of the fossils, including skin colour and internal organs. The fossils are collected by boring tunnels deep into the hillside. Due to government restrictions fossil extraction has been spasmodic for most of the last century. No fossils have been dug in the 21st century.

Mene Rhombea is the best known and most iconic fossil from Monte Bolca. They rarely come to market these days. This fine example has been in the possession of the same Italian family since the 1930s.

A rare Caturus Furcatus fossil fish

Painten, Germany, Lower Jurassic

54cm across

The fossils from Painten near Nuremburg are very special for a number of reasons. First, they often occur in a most beautiful state of preservation. Second, the quarry in which they are found is just a few miles from the world famous site at Solnhofen, but the actual fossils come from deposits that are around 500,000 years older. This means that many of them are very similar to those from Solnhofen, but they often have slight, but intriguing, differences. Millions of years ago the actual site at Painten seems to have been a lagoon and it was situated very close to an island. The result of this close proximity to land means that there is a very terrestrial influence among the fossils that are found, as well as there also being an abundance of marine creatures. The site therefore provides an invaluable insight into life in the sea as well as life on land in those long gone days. The third reason for the special nature of these fossils is the pure white of the limestone and it's higher than usual silica content. This, together with high organic content, results in strong contrast with the deep colouring of the fossils.

Solnhofen Germany is one of the most famous and important fossil localities in the world, and it is from here that the celebrated Archaeopteryx (the first known bird) was found. The quarries around Solnhofen were originally mined for the beautiful lithographic slate they contained, and the process of lithography was invented using this stone. While digging, the quarrymen often came across the remains of a variety of different creatures perfectly preserved in the rock including small dinosaurs, crocodiles, pterosaurs, plants, sea urchins, fish.

An extremely rare Plesiosaur, Cryptclidus eumymerus

Oxford clay, Upper Jurassic

313cm long; 240cm wide

This specimen was found during construction of a building near Peterborough several decades ago. The finder noticed what appeared to be bone protruding from the side of a trench. He recovered what material he could before the trench was back filled. The skeleton which is 60% compete has subsequently been expertly and skilfully prepared and impressively mounted for display. The Oxford clay is now infrequently exposed and is usually excavated mechanically so very few remains are recovered making this specimen particularly rare. Fewer than eight, 3-dimensional cryptoclidus plesiosaur skeletons are known to have been mounted for display and it is believed this is one of only 3 known British ones

120cm long

Provenance: Emmen Zoo Collection; then sold Summers Place Auctions, 6 June 2016, lot 82

Sabre toothed cats evolved over a considerable period of time and several different genus' the principle ones being the Nimravids and the Smilodons, producing six and three species respectively. Confusingly none were closely related to present day cats. The most famous “Smilodon” or the sabre tooth tiger is now recognized as three different species each being termed sabre toothed cats and evolved much later in the Pleistocene (2.5 m.y.a. -10,000 years ago).

The Nimravids were a much earlier genus of sabre tooth cats dating from the middle Eocene to late Miocene. They have now been classified in their own family the Barbourofelids. The Nimravids were first described by Edward Drinker Cope in 1880. It is believed the Nimravids were forest dwellers and probably lead similar lives to modern day leopards. Their disappearance from the fossil record follows the change in north America from forest to a more savanna like landscape, the family surviving longest in Europe.

Hoplophoneus was the largest toothed of the Nimravids and lived in North America between the late Eocene and early Oligocene. Its limbs were shorter than modern day cats and like the smilodons it had a pronounced flange on the lower jaw.

A highly important Cretaceous Amber Collection From Myanmar (Burma)

Sold on the behalf of Advanced Amber Kretaceous Zoologia (www.aakz.com)

These rare amber specimens collected long before the recent scientific frenzy on amber fossils are being offered for public sale from the amber archive of Advanced Amber Kretaceous Zoologia to help fund and advance scientific research into Cretaceous amber.

Furthermore AAKZ hope that by bringing these ambers to public attention it will generate renewed interest in a very exciting field in which there will doubtless be many new discoveries in the years to come.

All of the ambers, bar lot 171 were mined deep in the Hukawng valley at depths of up to 60 meters and were obtained over the last few decades before the recent civil conflict and with the exception of lot 164 come with one or more lab reports confirming their authenticity. Research and the interpretation of amber is still in its infancy and the organisms frozen in time within the amber in this collection have been described implementing the best current research available by AAKZ.

For further information on AGL Thai laboratory and the certificates provided with each lot, together with additional images and videos please see our website.

An extremely rare and possibly unique amber specimen containing a previously unrecorded winged creature

Hukawng Valley, Myanmar (Burma)

Cretaceous

Weight: 72.240 grammes/361.22 carats

Dimensions: 64.00 x 51.10 x 35.46mm

This very transparent golden amber has the remains of a red pigmented wonderfully preserved Cretaceous winged creature giving this animal the most aesthetically beautiful vivid red colour.

This creature is only “feathered” on wings and legs but not neck and head making identification very difficult.

The feather structures are very different from modern birds, and the plumage is very evident due to the large size of the dragon and the large size of the amber. Most importantly the vivid blood red pigment is in a natural pose as it is a three dimensional colour fossil, which allows for greater understanding of the creature’s anatomy, unlike the much more common flattened and smaller (pancake) birds in amber.

It seems likely that the arboreal creature was trapped in a fossilised tree hollow when the miners discovered it and luckily its importance was recognised, and it was acquired by the archive before it was sold into the jewellery trade as a giant amber pendant.

An extremely rare and possibly unique amber specimen containing Tetrapod type creature

Hukawng Valley, Myanmar (Burma)

Cretaceous

Weight: 171.820 grammes/859.11 carats

Dimensions: 101.76 x 85.33 x 33.09mm

This large piece of red and orange toned Cretaceous amber contains a clearly visible mysterious giant animal which is nicely posed showing claws, head and neck in three dimensions. The body is not as clear unless being viewed with a Nanoscanner, so it is conjecture as to whether or not it could fly.

An extremely rare and possibly unique amber specimen containing a Pterosaur head

Hukawng Valley, Myanmar (Burma)

Cretaceous

Weight: 23.690 grammes/118.548 carats

Dimensions: 50.49 x 43.65 x 21.84mm

This is believed to be the largest head of a pterosaur (or any other animal for that matter) ever discovered in Cretaceous amber. It is likely that the head of this creature was extracted from a large piece of amber where the body and wings were sacrificed in an effort to reveal the pterosaur's head and teeth more clearly.

This piece come with 3 lab verification reports as follows:

Geoffrey Dashwood was born in Hampshire, England in 1947. At the age of fifteen he won a scholarship to study fine art at Southampton College of Art, but left after a brief period, preferring to study directly from nature. In the 1980s Dashwood discovered a gift and a passion for sculpture. His earliest works were small, highly realistic studies in the mainstream of traditional English wildlife art and comparable in style to the famous 19th century French Animalier School of Sculpture. Although these early works brought him commercial success, he became increasingly dissatisfied with the constraints of realism and the lack of personal expression the genre afforded him.

Dashwood started to experiment with larger life-size and monumental works and began to eliminate all superfluous details, creating boldly modelled pieces. He refined his sculptures to attain smooth, tactile, pure forms, further enhanced in bronze by the application of coloured and multi-coloured patinas. In these sculptures he combined his own aesthetic ideals, establishing a distinctive style which is now internationally recognised as being quintessentially Dashwood.

Although his body of work can be classified within the wildlife art genre it is generally considered by many to transcend the subject matter and has also firmly established acceptance within the wider field of contemporary art. His affinity for and empathy with birds and his unique ability to express these emotions to others through his sculpture is undisputed. Dashwood's work is exhibited and collected worldwide.

Guy was born in 1939 in the East End of London on the eve of World War Two. His love affair with birds started as a young boy, inspired during a country walk in Hereford with his mother.

After leaving school he had a number of menial jobs before working as a bird keeper in Regent's Park while training to become a Buddhist monk. In the park, Guy remembers "I used to look after the ducks in the park and saw all these decoy ducks in the antique markets. I thought 'I could make some of these' - somebody came into the park and asked if they could have a few and it took off." So in 1975 he began carving birds and four years later he dedicated his full time to fine art.

His first show at the Portal Gallery was an enormous success and everything sold. His Essex workshop sits on a beach at the head of two tidal estuaries, the Blackwater and the Colne. Surrounded by birds and deposited driftwood Guy is in his element. Guy looks for wrecked boats, flotsam and jetsam, broken jetties and dunnage from passing cargo boats to make his sculptures. He finds that this kind of material has a special significance because it has had a life before he creates his bird forms. Weathered by time and the elements, each piece of wood bears marks that enhance his design, suggesting the outline of a wing or layers of plumage. His work is now also cast in bronze, bringing it to a wider audience.

He has exhibited internationally and his fans include Joanne Lumley, Ridley Scott and Michael Palin.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

The following are examples of the terminology used in this catalogue. Any statement as to authorship, attribution, origin, date, age provenance and condition is a statement of opinion and is not to be taken as a statement of fact.

Please read carefully the terms of the Authenticity Guarantee and the Conditions of Business for Buyers set out in this catalogue.

Antonio Canova

In our opinion a work by the artist. In the case of 19th century sculpture this indicates that the work was made in our opinion either by the artist or by a foundry or editor who had the rights to reproduce the artist's original model either during the artist's lifetime or for a defined posthumous period. (When the artist's forenames are not known, a series of asterisks, followed by the surname of the artist, whether preceded by an initial or not indicates that in our opinion the work is by the artist named).

Attributed to Antonio Canova

In our opinion probably a work by the artist but less certainty as to authorship is expressed than in the preceding category.

Manner of Antonio Canova

In our opinion a work in the style of the artist and of a later date

After Antonio Canova

In our opinion a copy at a later date of a known work by the artist. In the 19th century this indicates that in our opinion the work was made by a foundry or editor at a later date and apparently without exclusive rights.

Italian 18th century

In our opinion a work from that region and of that date.

Probably Italian 18th century

In our opinion a work that is likely to be from that region and/or of that date but less certainty as to the region and/ or date than is expressed in the preceding category.

In renaissance style

In our opinion a work executed in the style of the renaissance but not necessarily of that period.

The term signed and/or dated and/or inscribed means that in our opinion the signature and/or date and/or inscription are original to the model or authorized by the sculptor's studio or editor but not necessarily from the hand of the artist.

The term bearing the signature and/or date and/or inscription means that in our opinion the signature and/ or date and/ or inscription have been added at a later date.

Dimensions are given height before width

Condition of lots

Condition is only noted in the catalogue where an item is severely distressed. Prospective purchasers making commission bids without viewing the sale can be given condition reports on any lot on request.

It is essential for buyers to satisfy themselves as to the condition of lots prior to the sale and to arrange their own insurance cover against loss and damage immediately after the sale. Please refer to the Conditions of Business for Buyers.

SUMMERS PLACE AUCTIONS AUTHENTICITY GUARANTEE

If Summers Place Auctions Ltd sells an item which subsequently is shown to be a "counterfeit", subject to the terms below Summers Place Auctions Ltd will set aside the sale and refund to the Buyer the total amount paid by the Buyer to Summers Place Auctions Ltd for the item, in the currency of the original sale.

For these purposes, "counterfeit" means a lot that in Summers Place Auctions Ltd reasonable opinion is an imitation created to deceive as to authorship, origin, date, age, period, culture or source, where the correct description of such matters is not reflected by the description in the catalogue (taking into account any Glossary of Terms). No lot shall be considered a counterfeit by reason only of any damage and/or restoration and/or modification work of any kind (including repainting or over-painting).

Please note that this Guarantee does not apply if either:-

(i) the catalogue description was in accordance with the generally accepted opinion(s) of scholar(s) and expert(s) at the date of the sale, or the catalogue description indicated that there was a conflict of such opinions; or

(ii) the only method of establishing at the date of the sale that the item was a counterfeit would have been by means of processes not then generally available or accepted, unreasonably expensive or impractical to use; or likely to have caused damage to the lot or likely (in Summers Place Auctions Ltd reasonable opinion) to have caused loss of value to the lot; or

(iii) there has been no material loss in value of the lot from its value had it been in accordance with its description.

This Guarantee is provided for a period of five (5) years after the date of the relevant auction, is solely for the benefit of the Buyer and may not be transferred to any third party. To be able to claim under this Guarantee, the Buyer must:-

(i) notify Summers Place Auctions Ltd in writing within three (3) months of receiving any information that causes the Buyer to question the authenticity or attribution of the item, specifying the lot number, date of the auction at which it was purchased and the reasons why it is thought to be counterfeit; and

(ii) return the item to Summers Place Auctions Ltd in the same condition as at the date of sale to the Buyer and be able to transfer good title in the item, free from any third party claims arising after the date of the sale.

Summers Place Auctions Ltd has discretion to waive any of the above requirements. Summers Place Auctions Ltd may require the Buyer to obtain at the Buyer's cost the reports of two independent and recognised experts in the field, mutually acceptable to Summers Place Auctions Ltd and the Buyer. Summers Place Auctions Ltd shall not be bound by any reports produced by the Buyer, and reserves the right to seek additional expert advice at its own expense. In the event Summers Place Auctions Ltd decides to rescind the sale under this Guarantee, it may refund to the Buyer the reasonable costs of up to two mutually approved independent expert reports.

GUIDE FOR PROSPECTIVE BUYERS

1. Buyer's Premium Rates

The buyer's premium payable by the buyer of each lot is at a rate of 25% on the first £50,000, then 20% up to £250,000 and 12% on the amount by which the hammer price exceeds £250,000, plus an amount in respect of VAT thereon (see below).

2. VAT on Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium and VAT Symbols in the Catalogue

Property with no VAT symbol

Where there is no VAT symbol, Summers Place Auctions Ltd are able to use the Auctioneer's Margin Scheme and VAT will not normally be charged on the hammer price. Summers Place Auctions Ltd must bear VAT on the buyer's premium and hence will charge an amount in lieu of VAT at 20% on this premium, which will not be shown separately on the invoice.

Property with a † symbol

These items will be sold under the normal UK VAT rules and VAT will be charged at 20% on both the hammer price and buyer's premium.

Property with a @ symbol

It is assumed that items sold to buyers whose address is in the European Union (EU) will be remaining in the EU. The property will be invoiced as if it had no VAT symbol.

It is assumed that items sold to buyers whose address is outside the EU, will be exported from the EU. The property will be invoiced under the normal VAT rules (see 'Property with a † symbol above).

Property sold with a ‡ or Ω symbol

These items have been imported from outside the EU to be sold at auction under temporary importation. When Summers Place Auctions Ltd release such property to buyers in the UK, the buyer will become the importer and must pay Summers Place Auctions Ltd import VAT at the following rates on the hammer price:

‡ @ 5% Ω @ 20%

Summers Place Auctions Ltd must bear VAT on the buyer's premium and hence will charge an amount in lieu of VAT at 20% on this premium, which will not be shown separately on the invoice.

VAT Refunds

VAT may be cancelled or refunded on export if strict conditions are met and a fee of £30 plus VAT will be charged for this service. For advice, please contact us on 01403 331 331

Sales and Uses Taxes

Buyers from outside the UK should note that local sales taxes or use taxes may become payable upon import of items following purchase (for example, the Use Tax payable on import of purchased items to certain states of the USA). Buyers should obtain their own advice in this regard.

Artist's Resale Right

Purchase of lots marked with the following symbol ▲ will be subject to payment of the Artist's Resale Right, at a percentage of the hammer price calculated as follows:

Portion of the hammer price (in) Royalty Rate

From 0 to 50,000 4%

From 50,000.01 to 200,000 3%

From 200,000.01 to 350,000 1%

From 350,000.01 to 500,000 0.5%

Exceeding 500,000 0.25%

The Artist's Resale Right payable will be the aggregate of the amounts payable under the above rate bands, subject to a maximum royalty payable of €12,500 for any single work each time it is sold. The maximum royalty payable of €12,500 applies to works sold for €2 million and above. Calculation of the artist's resale right will be based on the Pounds Sterling / Euro reference exchange rate quoted on the date of the sale by the European Central Bank.

Property with a ♠ symbol.

Some of these items require specialist dismantling and may not be available for immediate collection after the sale. Intending purchasers should check the status of these lots before the sale.

3. Before the Auction

Pre-sale Estimates

Pre-sale estimates are intended as a guide for prospective buyers but all lots can realise prices above or below the pre-sale estimates. Seller's confidential reserves are set no higher than the low pre-sale estimates, except in the rare circumstance in which the reserve has been set in a foreign currency and the exchange rate has fluctuated.

It is advisable to consult us nearer the time of sale as estimates can be subject to revision. The estimates printed in the auction catalogue do not include the buyer's premium or VAT.

Provenance

In certain circumstances, Summers Place Auctions Ltd may print in the catalogue the history of ownership of a work of art if such information contributes to scholarship or is otherwise well known and assists in distinguishing the work of art. However, the identity of the seller or previous owners may not be disclosed for a variety of reasons. For example, such information may be excluded to accommodate a seller's request for confidentiality or because the identity of prior owners is unknown given the age of the work of art.

C.I.T.E.S.

All the relevant lots in this sale have been carefully vetted, mindful of current C.I.T.E.S. regulations, concerning the sale of endangered species. We are happy to provide advice on any lots, to overseas buyers concerning export restrictions. However, it is ultimately the buyers responsability to satisfy themselves that the correct licenses can be obtained prior to bidding.

Condition of Lots

All lots are available for inspection and Condition Reports are available on request. However, all lots are of an age and type which means that they may not be in perfect condition and should be viewed by prospective bidders; please refer to Condition 3 of the Conditions of Business for Buyers.

Electrical and Mechanical Goods

All electrical and mechanical goods are sold on the basis of their artistic and decorative value only, and should not be assumed to be operative. It is essential that any electrical system is checked and approved by a suitably qualified electrician, prior to use.

4. The Auction

Auction speeds vary, and generally average between 50 and 120 lots per hour. The auctioneer will commence and advance the bidding at levels and in increments he considers appropriate (generally in increments of approximately 10% of the previous bid) and is entitled to place a bid or series of bids on behalf of the seller up to the reserve on the lots, without indicating he is doing so and whether or not other bids are placed.

Please note Conditions 5 and 6 of the Conditions of Business for Buyers contain additional information on bidding.

Bidding in Person

To bid at auction you must register with us to obtain a bidding number. Before the auction, fill in the form at the registration desk, provide proof of identity, and you may be given a paddle showing your bidding number. This paddle should be used for bidding. The auctioneer will note this number when you purchase a lot.

Live Auctions

The auction takes place in the gallery with each lot displayed on a plasma screen as it is sold. Prospective purchasers are encouraged to attend the sale and must register their details with us beforehand. Bidding is by numbered paddle.

Absentee Bids

If you cannot attend the auction we will be happy to execute written bids on your behalf, so long as you have registered your details with us beforehand. A bidding form may be downloaded from www.summersplaceauctions.com website. A bidding form is also printed in the back of the catalogue. This service is confidential. Lots will always be bought as cheaply as is consistent with other bids, the reserves and other commission bids. To avoid confusion, the sale date, lot number and a brief description should be filled in and signed. Commission bids by email without a signature will not be accepted. In the event of identical bids, the earliest received will take precedence. Always indicate a top limit, i.e. the highest price you would bid if you were attending the auction. Don't forget that buyers premium and any VAT applicable will also be added onto your bid if you are successful. "Buy" and unlimited bids will not be accepted. Please refer to our conditions of business for buyers, which is also printed in the back of our catalogues. To ensure a satisfactory service please ensure that we receive your bids at least 24 hours beforehand.

Telephone bids

If you cannot attend the auction, it is usually possible to bid on the telephone. You will need to have registered your details with us 5 days before the auction. As the number of telephones is limited, it is necessary to make arrangements on which lots you wish to bid on, at least 24 hours before the sale. We also suggest that you leave a maximum bid which we can execute on your behalf in the event we are unable to reach you by telephone. Please refer to our conditions of business for buyers, which is also printed in the back of our catalogues.

Online Bidding

If you cannot attend the auction, you may wish to bid using the.saleroom.com, which will incur an additonal 5% of the hammer price plus VAT at the rate imposed

Sealed bid

For further information please see pages at the end of this section.

Sale by private treaty

Summers Place Auctions shall, from time to time, be offering some lots for sale by Private Treaty in our architectural portfolio. Additionally if you are looking for a specific piece please let us know and we will use our worldwide network of trade and private clients to help source the most suitable item for you. Please contact us for further information.

Payment

Payment is due in sterling immediately after the sale and before purchases can be released. Payments in person can be made in the saleroom on the day of the auction using mobile banking, debit cards or by cheque. Thereafter payments may also be made by electronic transfer to our bank, by post or by debit card transactions by telephone. Cash will not be accepted.

Wire transfers can be made directly to our bank. Please contact us for further details. Sterling Banker's Drafts and Building Society Cheques drawn on a recognised UK bank or building society are also accepted.

Credit/Debit Card

We are pleased to accept all major personal debit cards. Regrettably we are no longer able to accept credit cards

Sterling Cheque

Please note that we require seven days to clear sterling cheques where the amount exceeds the cheque card guarantee limit, unless special arrangements have been made with the auctioneer in advance of the sale (normally the presentation of a letter of guarantee from your bank). We always reserve the right to hold goods until a cheque is cleared.

Collection and Storage

On receipt of cleared funds, lots can be collected from the Walled Garden, Stane Street, Billingshurst, West Sussex, RH14 9AB, Monday to Friday between 9.30am and 12.30pm and 2.00pm and 4.00pm. Collection of lots is strictly by prior appointment and must be arranged at least 48hours in advance. If Lots have not been collected within 35 days of the auction date then storage charges may be applied at a rate of £10 per Lot per day. Buyers are reminded that liability for loss and damage transfers to the buyer from the fall of the hammer. Whilst the majority of lots will remain in their location until collected, Summers Place Auctions accept no responsibility for any damage which may occur, even in the event of Summers Place Auction staff assisting carriers during collection.

Summers Place Auctions also reserves the right to charge storage fees of £10.00 per lot, per week, for any pieces left at Summers Place over a longer period than six months irrespective of whether they have been entered into a sale or not.

Sealed bid- How it works Our sealed bid auctions close at 4.00pm on the day after the live auction, but are on view at the same time and are included in the same catalogue with an illustration, description and estimate. Clients wishing to leave bids should do so in writig or by emailing a signed scanned page detailing lot numbers, brief description and the bid(s) which they wish to leave. All clients should also have registered with us beforehand and provided photographic identification.

Sealed bids, when placed by telephone, are accepted only at the the caller's risk and must be confirmed by letter or e-mail to info@summersplaceauctions.com. You can also e-mail the completed sealed bid form to sealedbids@summersplaceauctions.com

Next give us your bid(s). This can be done by filling in the bidding slip found in your catalogue. If you are sending your bidding slip to Summers Place Auctions by post, please mark the envelope "Sealed Bid" so that we know it contains a sealed bid and do not open it accidentally. Bids and IDs may also be sent by e-mail. If you choose to send the bid electronically please email sealedbids@summersplaceauctions.com. This is a closed mailbox and will not be opened before the advertised time. However, we strongly recommend that if you have not viewed the sale in person, that you ask for condition reports on any lots you are thinking of leaving bids on.

Sealed bid auctions differ from established auctions in that the bid left is the bid that will be exercised in full. Therefore, if you decide to leave a bid of, say, £900 on the lot estimated at £800-1000 and there is no higher bid (where two identical bids are received, the earliest received bid will take precedence), £900 will secure the lot subject to buyer's premium and VAT on the premium.

We will contact you if you have been the successful bidder to inform you of the lot or lots that you have purchased, so that you can make payment and make arrangements for delivery. We have had many years of experience dealing with both UK carriers and international shippers and are happy to obtain quotations and facilitate transport and shipping of single lots and multiple purchases to anywhere in the world.

Bids will be opened on Thursday 22nd March; and sales results will appear on the Summers Place Auctions website. Please be mindful that we will have to process a large number of bids, which does take time. However, we will endeavour to get this accomplished as quickly as possible and will expect to have the results of the sale posted by the end of the day.

If you have never bid in a sealed bid sale before, here are some things to be aware of as regards leaving bids for this auction:

Every lot in the sale has a fixed reserve, (the minimum price for which the lot can be sold) and this is never above the low estimate, it can be slightly below, but in the vast majority of cases it is the low estimate.

The highest bid (as long as it is on or above the reserve) will be the winning bid. This is the 'hammer price' that the lot will be sold for.

You should consider leaving a bid of an odd amount in pounds, for example, rather that bidding £1,000, try say £1,004, as many lots have been bought for the sake of the odd £1!

You can tailor your bid in ways that are impossible to do in a live auction. For example, if you really like three lots, but only need one, and the piece you like the most is later in the sale, simply mark your order of preference. As long as your instructions are clear, having looked at any other bids left on the lots, we will do our best to comply with your preferences.

In the event of two identically highest bids, the earliest bid received will take precedence.

An auction price is made up of different components; the winning bid is called the 'hammer price'; A commission, which is in addition to the 'hammer price' is payable to the auctioneers. This is known as the buyers premium, on which VAT is payable. Lots marked with ▲ are subject to Artist Resale Right (ARR), which is 4% of the "hammer price". All lots that have additional VAT are clearly marked in the catalogue with a †.
